A winding-up spindle device and a winding-up device are known from European patent 0 754 341 B1. These are used to wind up an electrical conductor by a predetermined amount. The winding-up spindle device has a spindle sleeve with a cylinder in which a winding-up spindle is guided for axial movement, the winding-up spindle having a thread with a shaft which is at an end opposite the rotary spindle head carrying a rotor, and a spindle nut for the shaft of the winding-up spindle. A bearing plate is attached to the cylinder, in which bearing plate the spindle nut is carried for rotation. An actuating motor drives the winding-up spindle for the displacement of the spindle nut. To enable movement of the spindle nut between an engaged and disengaged position, two cams are provided. By means of the cam system, the spindle nut may be guided in a frictionless manner through an adjusting range. During the movement of the spindle nut along the spindle sleeve in an adjusting range, the motor drives the spindle nut with a predetermined speed. To limit the torque and speed of the motor, a torque limiting unit is provided. The object of the present invention is to create a winding-up spindle device, which may be used to wind up a conductor with high winding density or winding capacity and a very long winding length. According to the present invention, this object is attained by the features of claim 1. Advantageous embodiments of the invention emerge from the subclaims. The object is attained by the provision of a winding-up spindle device for a winding-up spindle, in particular for winding up an electrical conductor by a predetermined amount, said winding-up spindle having a shaft at one end which is rotatably supported in a spindle sleeve, which shaft has a thread thereon with a pitch size that corresponds to the predetermined amount.
